The final verdict of our top choice is the Zen Bamboo Deluxe 1500 Series Flat Sheet Set (View on Amazon) because it's soft, durable, and available in a range of rich colors. For the most eco-friendly option, we love the Ettitude Bamboo Lyocell Sheet Set (View on Ettitude), which is made up of 100 percent bamboo lyocell and OEKO-TEX certified. What to look for in a set of bamboo sheet bamboo mixing materials is common in sheets, but the best options are those that are 100 percent bamboo. Look for lyocell bamboo sheets, which are more environmentally friendly and made with non-toxin processes. Weave the texture directly affects how the sheets feel. The most common issues are twill and sateen. Twill is crisper. Sateen feels silkier but is more difficult to care for and tends to pricing. The number of bamboo sheet subjects typically counts the subject somewhere between 250 and 350. Although this may sound lower than some cotton options, bamboo is naturally soft. A 100% bamboo sheet with a yarn number of 250 may feel just as soft as a cotton sheet with a thread count of 400. There are several factors that can contribute to sleep quality and sheets are one of them. Finding the right sheets for you can be a bit of a process. When evaluating sheets, you should consider construction and construction, wedding your preferences, durability, coolness and feeling on them while you sleep. Of course, evaluating these things can be difficult (or impossible) before you have a chance to actually sleep on a set of sheets. Here in Sleepopolis, I'll do some hard work for you. In today's review, I take a look at the bamboo sheets of carlioha and determine if they are worth your time and money. Don't you need to know all those nitty nitty? no problem. Click here to head straight to summarize the review. Construction & MaterialsThe Carlioha bamboo sheets are made from 100% viscose from bamboo with a twill weave construction. These bamboo sheets are twice as soft as regular cotton sheets, according to the manufacturer. Each set of Carlioha bamboo sheets comes with a fitted sheet, a flat sheet, and two items. Carlioha bamboo sheets are available for queen and king-sized mattresses and mattresses suitable for up to 18 deep. Pillow cases are designed to fit pillows measuring 20 x 28 (queen set sheets) and 20 x 36 (king set sheets). Angled view of Carlioha BambooBuild QualityOverall sheet, Carlioha bamboo sheet making quality is relatively good. This was determined by close investigation of stitches, material quality, and overall fabrication. After reviewing, I'll find some loose threads after washing carlioha bamboo sheets, though most of these can be clipped easily without compromising the integrity of the sheet. In a few places, there was some crooked or double stitches, a fact that surprised me at this price point. However, due to the fact this sheet is softer and not as hard as sheets made of stronger materials, some loose threads are expected. Carlioha bamboo sheetsDurability & Performance TestsWhen testing the Carlioha bamboo sheets, I keyed in on three main points: shrinkage, damage, and color. There is almost nothing more frustrating than spending good money on a set of sheets only to shrink them after normal money laundering. So I tested how well the bamboo sheets of carlioha remained just as good. Next, I once again inspect any loose threads after multiple washes/dry cycles to determine how well carlioha bamboo sheets stand the time test. Eventually I wanted to see if the sheets kept their deep blue color, so I'm testing the color hold as well. Shrinking Testin in order to determine whether carlioha bamboo sheets shrink after natural washing and drying. I measured the flat sheet and installed as well as pillow cases. I measured both before the sheets were placed in the detergent and after they were removed from the dryer. Then, I did a bit of math to determine how shaky the sheets were. After further investigation, the flat sheet was trembling at 2.8% compared to its original size. The pillow case saw a little further shrinking, reducing the size by 4.2%. Carlioha Bamboo Sheet Shrink – Flat sheet was shaking 2.8%. Pillow case was shaking 4.2%. TestSometimes damage occurs over several washes/dry cycles, so it is important to test. After further review, the Carlioha sheet appears to have been held up well. It was great to see, especially given the number of loose threads I identified from the package. After a few washes/dry cycles and weeks of use there are no new loose yarns and threads are not alאהad worse. The color test color test I devised shows whether the set of sheets has any color or color run out. I begin by soaking the pillow in hot water and allowing it to absorb. Then I call extra water with my hands and put a layer of paper towels under the pillow file. Finally, I press a rolling pin against the pillow case and check if there is any color run-out on the paper towel. When this experiment was finished, I was able to note that these sheets showed no way. / Color run out. Carlioha Bamboo Sheet Color Test - Zero Color TransferFeel, Cooling, & StyleCarlioha Bamboo Sheet is primarily known for its softness. They're really delivered in that department, I'm drowning in these sheets, and every time I sang during the night, they nodded on my body. Softness made the sheets a little slippery, but not quite the size of satin sheets. The close-up shot of carliohaOne bamboo sheets is one of the best things about carlioha bamboo sheets their cooling effect. These sheets are touted as 3 degrees cooler than cotton sheets. While I'm not sure they're exactly 3 degrees cooler, I can say that they feel cold and sleep very comfortable. Compared to most cotton sheets I agree, that they feel cooler. The almost silky smooth feel helps in this section as well, as the sheets do not stick or otherwise hold to your skin. Carlioha bamboo sheets are available in a variety of colors - from the blue Bahamas (the color of the sheet I checked) to white, ivory, sage, and sandy beach. All sheets have solid colors available without pattern or other styles. Finally, the sheets didn't wrinkle as much as the other sheets I've tried, but even removing them from the dryer when they were still wet and drying the air didn't prevent all wrinkles. Should I buy carlioha bamboo sheets? I recommend bamboo Carlioha sheets to sleepers who want silky smooth sheets – made of vicus from bamboo, this sheet delivers incredible softness. It's a smooth kind of feeling, similar to a satin weave in some respects. This type of sensation helps to improve cooling, as sheets don't stick to your skin. You want an eco sheet - bamboo is a stable material, so the sheet made of it is a great choice to help the environment. Want to feel cool – With natural moisture wicks, these sheets help you stay cool throughout the night, no matter what weather you live in. I tested these at the end of Fimiers, Arizona summer and found them quite comfortable. As mentioned above, the smooth feel of bamboo really helps this sheet to lick across your skin.
